LONDON, SEPTEMBER 5.

THERE is a striking similitude between the present situation of the people of England and the people of France. In both, the people are alike oppressed; in both the finances of the public are in a wretched condition; in both the reins of government are guided by a woman; in both their Parliaments have been essentially suppressed; in both their Princes do not rely on the affections of their subjects, but on large standing armies; in both the King's will and pleasure is the only law; in both the just and constitutional rights and liberties of the people have been infringed and trampled upon; in both there have been frequent remonstrances to their Kings, which have been totally disregarded; and in both there is such a general ferment and discontent, that they may probably bring on a confusion, and end in a change of their present form of government.

SEPTEMBER 7.

A bold and spirited remonstrance, we are informed, is preparing for the approbation of the Livery on Michaelmas day next; and, if it should be approved, Mr. Wilkes is determined to go up to St. James's to know his Majesty's pleasure when he will receive it.

It is conjectured, that a private negociation is actually begun by the Earl of Chesterfield, that nobleman having had several private conferences lately at Richmond.

It is remarkable, that notwithstanding the consequence of the following persons in and to administration, they have hitherto been spared by Junius, viz. Lords Holland, Sandwich, Hillsborough, Rochford, Hertford, March, the Right Honourable Messrs. Rigby and Harley. Gratitude, it is said, makes him spare the first, but his motive for sparing the rest, particularly Lord Sandwich, we have not yet learned.

The examination of the person on Thursday night, relative to the fire at Portsmouth dock-yard, before the Lord Mayor, Aldermen Trecothick and Kennett, at which was present the secretary to the Earl of Rochford, lasted a considerable time; but the man made no discoveries of any consequence; he asserted that he was blindfolded, and led to the place by a certain Captain whom he could produce if he were to be sent to Portsmouth: He was told that if he had any discoveries to make, by which the affair could be brought to light, so that the persons concerned might be convicted thereof, he should not only be admitted as an evidence, but have all his debts paid, which, it is said amounted to near one thousand pounds. He replied he expected something more; but he was informed that his request could not then be positively granted. He gave no satisfactory answers to any questions asked him; upon which the Lord Mayor ordered him into another room with the officer in whose custody he was, till his Lordship and the gentlemen above-mentioned had consulted how they should proceed in the business. In the mean time he was allowed some wine in the room to which he was sent, where he drank plentifully, and smoked his pipe, till ten o'clock at night, by which time every thing being settled with regard to the debt he was arrested for, and also what he had contracted in the spunging-house, for eating and drinking, &c. which score it is said, amounted to about twenty pounds, a messenger with his assistant came and took him from the Mansion-House, and set off immediately for Portsmouth, to see if he can make the discoveries there which he has asserted he can.

It is said, that a copy of the above examination has been sent from the Mansion-House to the Lords of the Admiralty.

We are assured there are some eminent persons in this metropolis supposed to have been materially instrumental in setting fire to Portsmouth dock; and that proper people are appointed to keep a strict watch over their conduct, until some matters are discovered that will either entirely free them from suspicion, or cause them to be immediately apprehended.

A gentleman of veracity, lately returned from Paris, assures us, the prevailing report there is, that a great disagreement at present subsists between the courts of Madrid and Versailles, on account of the former having made proposals to the latter jointly to declare war against Great-Britain, which were declined on account of the distressed state of the finances and domestic broils now prevailing.

SEPTEMBER 9.

Letters from Berlin mention, that incessant rains and hurricanes continue to occasion the greatest devastations throughout that country.

A letter from Portsmouth, dated September 6, mentions that the person who gave information concerning the setting the Dock-yard on fire, arrived there that day in custody of one of his Majesty's messengers, they having travelled all night; he was carried before the Governor, to whom it is said he gave information against a Romish Priest, and a person who goes by the name of Captain, both of whom left the town as soon as it was known what the informer was in custody for. The letter adds, that several other people there are suspected of being concerned in the iniquitous transaction.

SEPTEMBER 10.

We are told from authority, that six regiments of foot on the Irish establishment are shortly to be draughted off for America.

A plan for a thorough coalition of parties, is now certainly on the carpet under the direction of the Lord Northington, Camden, and Chesterfield.

It is reported that a definitive treaty (in the manner of the Bourbonian compact) is now on foot between the Courts of London, Copenhagen, Berlin, and Petersburgh.

Last Tuesday night General Paoli, accompanied by the Polish Ambassador, arrived at Edinburgh, from London. We hear they propose a short excursion through the country, and that they will visit part of the Highlands before they return.

We are told it is under contemplation to appoint a Maitre de Police in every post town in this kingdom, for the purpose of enquiring into the names, families, connections, &c. of all foreigners, in the same manner as is done in France: A regulution which, it is imagined, will prove of great utility to this kingdom.

Last night died at Putney, of a violent fit of the gravel and stone, ROBERT WOOD, Esq; member for Brackley, in Northamptonshire, and late one of the Under Secretaries of State.

Six Couriers, with letters to the French Chargé des Affaires, have arrived since the departure of the Count de Guignes. It is said the Count is expected to return hither.

Extract of a Letter from Reading, September 7.

"Britain, now under confinement in our goal for forgery, has lately declared himself a party concerned in setting fire to Portsmouth Dock-yard: He pretends to have been a principal actor in that dark scene, and insinuates that several persons of the first rank were concerned in it: He has sent letters to some public spirited persons in town, and expects, with a seeming degree of impatience, an order to be removed thither, that he may make a full discovery of the whole affair. The report, relative to his having served as an officer in the army, together with that of his being often visited by persons of rank, since under confinement here, are equally untrue."

SEPTEMBER 11.

The Parliament of Ireland meets on the 8th of next month.

The Parliament of England is not to meet till after Christmas.

Orders are given for an immediate repair of the castles of Inverness, Dunganon, and Leith, in Scotland.

SEPTEMBER 12.

We are assured there is no foundation for the reports of a treaty being on foot between the courts of Berlin, Copenhagen, Petersburg, and London, in the manner of Bourbon compact.

Yesterday there was a Council of State at St. James's, at which the Earls of Suffolk and Rochford, Lord North, the Earl of Hertford, Commodore Hervey, &c. attended.

After the Council broke up, Lord North had a conference with his Majesty of near an hour and a half. The Spanish Ambassador was in waiting, and had a long interview with Lord North.

SEPTEMBER 13.

There is a general talk of the Earl of Suffolk's resigning his post before spring, and that shortly after he will be created Duke of Suffolk.

Lord Albemarle is to succeed the Earl of Suffolk if he resigns.

The Earl of Rochford, Secretary of State for the Southern department, is said to be the only great officer, except the Premier, who at present attends strictly to the duty of his office; in which respect his Lordship has exceeded all who have gone before him for some time past.

Lord North has declared he will not quit the helm till he has conveyed the political vessel into a quiet harbour. "I took the command (said he lately to a naval friend) in the midst of a hurricane, and have almost reached a port of security; when I cast an anchor to my satisfaction there, the Admiral may give the rudder to whom he pleases, and my best wishes for a prosperous voyage shall certainly attend the new Captain."

After the Court broke up, a Cabinet Council was held, at which the Earls of Rochford and Hertford, Lord North, &c. assisted. The French Chargé des Affaires attended, and afterwards had a long conference with Lord North.

The pretended discoveries of Dudley and Britain, relative to setting fire to Portsmouth Dock-yard, gain not the least credit at the west end of the town; but they are impatient to know how the hum will end.

SEPTEMBER 14.

Yesterday morning the Earl of Rochford and Lord North set off for Richmond in a post-chaise, where they had a long conference with his Majesty, after which their Lordships returned to town immediately.

When their Lordships returned, they went immediately to the Secretary's Office at St. James's, where the French Charge des Affaires was in waiting, and some dispatches were sent off directly to Paris.

From the frequent and long conferences of the above Noblemen with a Great Personage, it is conjectured that some matters of very great importance are upon the tapis.

Wednesday the Premier paid a visit to the Duke of Grafton (the late Premier) at his Grace's seat at Wakefield Lodge, in Northamptonshire, where they had a long conference; whence it is conjectured that some momentous state affair is on the carpet.

We are credibly informed, that Lord Viscount Townshend has received a commission from his Majesty appointing to meet the Irish Parliament, and to continue in Ireland one year longer.

The late Robert Wood, Esquire, one of the Under Secretaries of State, is said to have died worth upwards of one hundred thousand pounds.

A correspondent assures us, that the following article is authentic beyond a doubt: "The Count de Guignes is so excessively attached to music, that during his residence here the business of his office was almost entirely neglected for the fiddle and harpsichord. This occasioned his being called home, where he is now greatly under the displeasure of his master. The Count, however, is using all his influence to prevail upon him to suffer him to return in the character of Ambassador, and has given the most solemn promises to make a reform in his conduct; but the King continues inflexible; though there is some reason to believe he will not be able to withstand the intercession of Madame Barré, who has undertaken to be the Count's advocate."

SEPTEMBER 17.

We hear the Parliament will meet for the dispatch of business some time in November.

Large bets are now depending at the west end of the town, and policies are opened in city, that no true discovery will be made of the parties concerned in the late fire at Portsmouth dock within the space of twelve months to come.

The reason why Dudley was referred for examination to the Lord Mayor on the affair of Portsmouth fire was, to prevent the popular party from throwing any reflections on the ministry, by saying, that capital information was suppressed; "Let our enemies (said Lord Sandwich) have the management of the evidence, and the people must believe us innocent, if under their own favourites, no accusation is urged against our characters."

Lord North will certainly be created Viscount Dillington, before next meeting of Parliament.

The office of Secretary of State for Scotland will soon be revived, and, we hear, is intended for his Grace the Duke of St. Albans.

Sir Robert Barnard and Colonel Barré are arrived in town from their travels abroad.

Last Saturday advice was received by express from Paris, to a merchant of this city, that an account was just brought there of the sailing of two fleets, one from Brest, and the other from Toulon; that they taken on board provisions for six months; but to what part they were bound was kept a profound secret. It further says, that councils are daily held, and that the Count de Guignes is present at all of them.

Orders are sent to Chatham for fitting out four third rate men of war with all expedition for foreign service.

It is said the affairs of Ireland have lately been the subject of frequent discussion in the cabinet, and that some matters of importance relating to that country are very shortly expected to transpire.

It is now confidently reported, that neither the Marquis of Rockingham nor the Earl of Chesterfield have, in any manner, been concerned in forming a plan for a new administration; and that, if such a plan exists, it is entirely unknown to them. On the contrary, it is reported, that such plan was produced by the Earl of Chatham, and received some trifling alterations from the two first mentioned noblemen.

The ministry are using all their influence, and have set every engine to work, to prevent the re-election of the present worthy Lord Mayor; and for this end circular letters are preparing to be sent to such of the Common Council as are attached to the unpopular party.

It is supposed Dudley was privy to setting fire to Portsmouth dock, but not immediately concerned; and it is said, in consequence of some expressions he let drop as he was going to Portsmouth, secret measures are taking towards the discovery of the principals in that wicked transaction.

SEPTEMBER 18.

A correspondent says, it is no longer a secret, that JUNIUS is the Duke of R——d.

The Duke of D——t is married to Miss Nancy Parsons.

On Saturday night the man who was sent down to Portsmouth, to make a discovery of the Persons concerned in setting Portsmouth Dock on fire, was brought back to town. His information, it is said, amounts to nothing; and he is now in custody of a messenger in Pall-Mall.

VIENNA, September 1: It is not to be wondered at that the public cannot yet find out the motives of the proceedings of our Court, since the General Officers themselves are at a loss to discover the object of the present military preparations. They have received orders, sealed up, which they are directed not to open but at a certain time and place, and in the presence of persons appointed for that purpose.

SEPTEMBER 19.

Orders are sent over land to the Commander in Chief of his Majesty's squadron in the Mediterranean, with positive instructions not to suffer any British ships to be stopped or searched on any pretence whatsoever, either by the Spaniards, French, or any powers in the Italian seas.

Orders are sent to Plymouth for two regiments of foot to be embarked immediately at that place for Quebec.

Last night a courier arrived in George-street, Westminster, from Paris, with an account that Count de Guignes would return to England in a few days. It is said that his return is owing to an express sent him for that purpose, by the desire of a great personage, to take off all suspicion of his being any ways concerned in the affair at Portsmouth, as his sudden departure had given the public reason to believe he had.

The Emperor of Germany and the King of Sweden are expected here next spring.

One day last week a great a place in the Excise was sold to a certain Alderman of this city for the sum of fifteen thousand pounds hard money.

Extract of a Letter from Plymouth, September 15.

"On Wednesday last arrived here from Portsmouth, in charge of two of his Majesty's messengers, Mr. Dudley, in order to find out some of the persons concerned in setting fire to Portsmouth Dock-yard. Thursday he was examined before Commissioner Rogers; but we do not hear he has been able to point out any of the persons concerned; and on Friday, as soon as the post arrived, he was ordered immediately for London, and accordingly set out with the two Messengers as his companions. —He is well known in these parts, and in February last was here as a rider, taking orders for a wholesale shoemaker of Bristol. Several people went to see him, and conversed with him on the subject of the fire at Portsmouth; and from what he said, some are apt to believe he knows something of the affair, while others suppose it to be only a scheme to get his debts paid, and to amuse the nation, until some other object takes off their attention.

Translation of a Letter from a German Officer at Vienna, who distinguished himself by his bravery, fighting in Flanders against the French.

"The dawn of our future greatness begins to appear with infinite glory. Joseph Benedict Augustus is determined his reign shall mark the æra of the Augustan age in the annals of the German Empire, and that he will rival the illustrious actions of his imperial ancestors.

"The basis of the brillancy of the present reign is formed by the happy treaty just concluded between the two Empires and his Majesty of Prussia; a treaty, French negotiation and intrigue could not interrupt. French policy, rather finesse, is now become inanimate; its nerve is broke; the power of bribery no longer exists; the misery of poverty overclouds the glittering parade of Versailles.

"The imperial Eagle will now feed upon the faded Lis of the haughty Bourbon; the ravaged provinces of the Empire will be restored to the house of Austria, and her standard will be again planted upon the rampart of Dunkirk and the Citadel of Strasburg.

"The operations of next summer's campaign are already formed; and the imperial Theresa will, a second time, like a Semiramis, ride at the head of the Austrian armies, and will resign to her son, Joseph Benedict Augustus, the father of his country, the idol of his subjects, and the guardian of the liberties of Germany, the imperial standard, which will march to the banks of the Rhine, preceded by thirty thousand Prussian grenadiers, escorted by the united armies of Austria, with a rear-guard of fifty thousand Russians; a military procession fit to accompany such a royal banner.

"You will see that the ambition of our German Augustus is different from that of the haughty Louis; not to plunder, burn, and massacre, but to conquer tyranny, and restore the freedom and independency of the German Empire."

Yesterday sailed from Deptford his Majesty's frigate Arethusa, Captain Hammond: She is bound to America.

SEPTEMBER 20.

It is reported, that there are at this present time in Bristol, in great distress, a person who was not long since employed as a spy in France, and who, several months before the fire happened at Portsmouth dock, wrote to a certain nobleman, that such a blow would be struck; his intelligence, however, was not thought credible.

It is said a new regulation is intended to take place in the appointment of navy pursers; and also of chaplains to the King's ships.

By private letters from Sweden we learn, that under the auspices of their young King the most spirited preparations are making, as it is supposed, for some very important stroke; but as his counsellors are possessed of that uncommon virtue of courtiers, Secrecy, not an Iota of their schemes has yet transpired.

A person lately arrived from Madrid says, that the King of Spain is taking the most effectual method to increase his marine, and that the Spaniards, in case of a war, will become more formidable than they have for some time appeared.

SEPTEMBER 21.

Private letters from the Hague mention, that the States-General have given orders for all the barrier-towns belonging to that republic to be constantly garrisoned, and all the works put in a posture of defence.

A correspondent assures us he has received letters from Spain, which mention, that it is a general talk that the whole force of the court of Madrid will very shortly be employed against the Russians; if so, it is impossible that England can long preserve her neutrality.

Edward Manwaring, Esq; who (at the hazard of every thing dear and valuable, even of life itself) has been a strenuous supporter of administration in America, is, we hear, to be appointed a member of the board of commissioners there, in the room of John Robinson, Esq; who, it is said, is to be appointed to the Chief-Justiceship of North-Carolina, vacant by the removal of Mr. Martin Howard to the Chief-Justiceship of New-York.

Every ship carrying one hundred men must have a chaplain; for which reason ninety-nine is the complement of many hundred vessels. Are these the ninety and nine just men which need no repentance?

NEW-YORK, October 11.

FRIDAY the 18th past, was held at the Queen's Head Tavern in New-York, a GRAND LODGE of the most ancient and honourable Fraternity of Free and Accepted Masons; when a Commission from the Right Honourable LORD BLANEY, GRAND MASTER of England, appointing SIR JOHN JOHNSON, Bart. GRAND MASTER of MASONS for the Province of New-York, was presented to GEORGE HARRISON, Esq; then GRAND MASTER; and received with the general Approbation of the Brethren. After the Commission was read, he was immediately in due Form invested with the Badges of that important Office, and placed in the CHAIR, agreeable to the Rites and Usages practised upon such solemn Occasions, by that respectable and Catholic Society. In these Ceremonies he was assisted by the Right Honourable Lord Drummond, and Colonel Johnson. OCTOBER 22.

Monday Night last was married, Lieutenant John Plenderleith, of the Royal Artillery, to Miss Jennet Smith, Daughter of the Honourable William Smith, Esq; a young Lady endowed with all the accomplishments requisite to render the Marriage State happy.

HARLES-TOWN, NOVEMBER 14.

LAST Thurſday Morning a Fire broke out in one of the Store-Houſes at Mr. Reid's Rope-Walk, without the Town, which entirely conſumed the ſame, and deſtroyed near Eight Tons of Yarn ready for tarring. Happily it was a rainy Morning, and three Fire Engines were very ſoon got thither, or Mr. Reid muſt have ſuſtained a much greater Loſs.

The ſame Day died, after a lingering Indiſpoſition, the amiable Mrs. MARY HUGER, Wife of Benjamin Huger, Eſq.

Tueſday the Ship New-Carolina-Packet, built for the Weſt-India Trade, by Meſſrs. Begbie and Manſon, at Hobcaw, was launched there. She is to be commanded by Capt. Wilhite; and though undecorated, is allowed to be as good, if not, as is thought, will be as handſome, a Ship as has been built in this Province.

This Day Rowland Rugeley, Eſq; returned from London, in the Ship Montagu, Captain Pickles.

There is now a good Deal of Rice in Town, but neither the Price of that Article, or of Indico is yet fixed.—Indian Corn is at an higher Price than uſual at this Time of the Year; it is ſold at Seventeen Shillings and Six pence per Buſhel, yet there is ſome ſhipped for Exportation.

In the Betſey, Captain Schermerhorn, juſt arrived from New-York, are come Paſſengers, John Cary, Eſq; Attorney at Law, from New-Jerſey, to ſettle here, Mr. William Marſhal, and upwards of twenty others.

We are informed, that Five Regiments have lately arrived at Martinique, to be diſtributed amongſt the French Iſlands, which are now all in the beſt Poſture of Defence.

CUDJOE is an elderly Fellow, very artful, and supposed to have enticed the others away: He has been used to the Coasting Business Southwardly, and is so well known (as well as the others) as to need no further Description.

If she will immediately return to her master, she shall be forgiven; but if not, THREE POUNDS reward will be paid to whoever delivers her to the subscriber at Stono, or the warden of the work-house in Charles-Town. A Reward of TWENTY POUNDS will be paid on the Delivery of the said Run-away to me, or the Warden of the Work-House in Charles-Town, and all reasonable Charges. ## RUN AWAY,

From the Subscriber's Plantation in St. STEPHEN's Parish, in the Night of WEDNESDAY the Second Instant, the following NEGROES, viz.

A Negro Man, named SAUL, or SOLOMON, but commonly called Saul; and a Wench, named CHARLOTTE, with a Male Child at her Breast, about eight Months old.—Saul is a tall, likely black Fellow, with a large Beard; speaks very proper English; is sensible, 25 or 30 Years of Age, and a Cooper by Trade.—Charlotte, his Wife, is a likely sensible Wench, not above Nineteen or Twenty Years of Age, of a yellowish Complexion, with a Scar on her Forehead; has always been brought up to the House, and is an extraordinary Seamstress. They were both lately cloathed with Osnabrugs, and bought, some time last Winter, by Mr. John Edwards, at Mr. Levy's up the Path, at the Sale of the lat Captain North's Estate, and purchased from Mr. Edwards by the Subscriber. They took with them, a small mouse-coloured HORSE, branded with Capt. North's brand, with Saddle, Bridle, and all the Effects they had, it is supposed, with an Intent never to return to their Owner. They were perceived the next Morning, and tracked several Miles, making towards the Southward, where it is imagined they are gone; and, as they have Friends and Relations about Ponpon, it is likely they will be harboured there.

Whoever will apprehend the said Run-Aways, and deliver them, or either of them, to the Warden of the Work-House, or to the Subscriber, in Charles-Town, shall receive for SAUL TEN POUNDS, and for the Wench and Child TEN POUNDS; or TWENTY POUNDS for the Three, and all reasonable Charges.

RUN-AWAY, in or about February last, a Negro Fellow named PRIMUS, formerly the property of BETTY WISE, who purchased him from GOWIN, a free fellow at Ponpon, where he is well known, and is supposed to be somewhere thereabout; he endeavours to pass for a free fellow, and as he is artful enough, might change his name, he talks very good English, and is about Twenty-five years old, and about five feet four inches high, of a yellow complexion; he has a brother named MAY, belonging to Mr. WILLIAMSON in Ponpon, who was run-away in company with him. A reward of TEN POUNDS and all reasonable charges will be given, to any person who will apprehend and deliver the said negro to the warden of the work-house, or to me in Charles-Town. JACOB VALK.
